

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

In a television broadcast receiving apparatus, program information data are received together with plural pieces of program data, and a print mode of 5 the program information is, when printing the program data, determined so that the program information data are laid out just on a predetermined number of print page(s). With this contrivance, the program information sorted out in an easy-to-view form and 10 thus printed, can be obtained.